

ARGENTINA FACING THE 2015 PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS

A CONVERSATION ABOUT THE FUTURE OF ARGENTINA AND LATIN AMERICA

A panel discussion on the future of ARGENTINA: THE ECONOMIC, political and social effects of the current situation in the BRIC COUNTRIES AND THE DROP OF THE PRICE OF COMMODITIES FOR THE REGION AND OTHER EMERGING MARKETS.

October 6, 2015 | 6:00 PM – 8:00 PM

University of Pennsylvania
ARCH Building, Arch Auditorium, Room 208
3601 Locust Walk
Philadelphia, PA 19104

Refreshments & traditional argentine food will be served.

Please RSVP kindly your attendance to:
Natalia Dominguez Buckley at ndbuckley76@gmail.com

SPEAKERS

PROF. TULIA FALLETI

Class of 1965 Term Associate Professor of Political Science
Senior Fellow Leonard Davis Institute of Health Economics
<http://www.sas.upenn.edu/polisci/people/standing-faculty/tulia-falletti>

PROF. EMILIO A. PARRADO, PhD.

Professor and Chair Department of Sociology
Director of LALS (Latin American and Latino Studies Program)
<https://sociology.sas.upenn.edu/?q=eparrado>

NATALIA DOMINGUEZ BUCKLEY, C'05 & MGA'09

Regional Director for International Business Development
PA Department of Community and Economic Development

Sponsor by:

